ROOSEVELT ON HIS WAY TO KENTUCKY FOR LINCOLN DAY

President Cheered By the Crowds At the Stations Along Line and Wishes Them "Good Luck"

CENTENNIAL IS MADE A NATIONAL HOLIDAY

Bontell Pays Tribute In the House To Memory of the Emancipator

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—By joint resolutions late today Congress made provision as far as possible for the observance of February 12, 1909, the centenniel anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, as a special holiday and authorized the President to issue a proclamation making it effective in the district of Columbia and the Territories of Alaska, Arizona, New Mexico and Hawaii.

In anticipation the passage of such resolution after he had departed for Lincoln's birthplace in Kentucky, the President had prepared and signed the proclamation, which was issued as soon as the joint resolution was signed by the President of Senate and Speaker of the House. While this proclamation epplies only to the district of Columbia and the Terriories, the States of Coloroda, Connecticutt, Delaware, Illinois, Kansas,, Massachesets Minnisota, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Washington, and Wyoming, by legislation have made Lincoln's birthday a legal holiday.

Boutell Delivers Eulogy.

Toward close of session House today Representative Boutelt, of Illinois delivered a eulogy on Abreham Lincoln. He spoke of Lincoln's entry into the body as a member on December 6, 1847.

"Here, in this House," he said, "attending to its routine duties and responding to numerous roll-calls, Lincoln spent his fortieth birthday."

Boutell said it was altogether fitting that there should be put on the records of the House some memorial of the "greatest member of this national assembly of the people's representatives."

"No ruler," he said, "ever faced so hard a task, or one beset with so many pitfails as that which confronted Lincoln, when he entered upon the Presidency."

No Harsh Words For Opponents

"We shall search in vain the messages, speeches and letters of Lincoln for one impatient, harsh or contemptuous word, directed against those who differed from him or sought to thwart his designs.

"The war powers vested in Lincoln gave him the influence of a dictator, yet he never used that power to destroy or humiliate a personal enemy or political rival When the great conflict was ended Lincoln had only words of kindness for those who had taken arms against the government, and for the stricken South he cherished naught but feeling of tender compassion and brotherly affection. The universal verdict will be that among the world's greatest men, for moral elevation and pure nobility of spirit, Abraham Lincoln had no peer."

HOOGENVILLE TO ATTRACT NOTICE OF NATION TODAY

President Roosevelt Will Lay the Cornerstone of Lincoln Memoral Building In Larue

WRIGHT TO SPEAK FOR CONFEDERATES

Native State of Martyr To Be Represented By Its Present Governor

HODGENVILLE, Ky., Feb. 11.—The centenary of Abraham Lincoln's birth will be observed generally throughout the United States but nowhere will the commemoration exercises command more interest than those held in this little town tomorrow.

Two miles from here on the Lincoln Farm, which has been purchased by a national association, formed for the purpose, President Roosevelt will lay the corner stone of a memorial building now being erected by popular subscription to mark Lincoln's birthplace and to protect for all times the little log cabin in which the martyr President was born

Roosevelt Chief Orator.

The centenary address on this occasion will be delivered by President Roosevelt. General Luke E. Wright, the Secretary of War will speak on behalf of the Confederate soldiers. General James Wilson will represent the veteraes of the Union Army and Lincoln's native state will be represented by Governor Augustus E. Willson of Kentucky. Other addresses will be made by Bishop Galloway of Mississipp end ex-Governor Joseph W. Folk of Missouri.

Hodgenville, which is near the geographical center of the State of Kentucky and not far from the ceeter of population of the United States, promises to become a new Mecca in America and the Lincoln Ferm a second Mount Vernon Sentiment About Birthplace.

Although Abraham Lincole had other homes there is a sentiment about his birthplace that does eot attach to any of them He lived here for eight years and before he left, knew very much of what Mark Twain calls "the model little farm that raised a man". He went swimming in the nearby creek and by the light from the huge fireplace in the little one room cabin he learned his first lessons.

It was in 1806 thet Thomas Lincoln brought his bride, Nancy Hanks, and established the rude home that three years later was to welcome leto the world the future President. The actual necessities of life were seldom lacking, but it was a life of severe poverty.

Father Road Supervisor.

For some years Thomas Lincoln served as a county supervisor of public roads an important position in that time. Lend owners paid their poll tax with pick and shovel then, and on road mendin days he used to take little Abe along for company and for help. There are old-timers here now who claim that there is not a sectioe of the old pike within several miles of his home along which Abraham Lincoln has not played or on which he hes not driven his ox team.

At this time Kentucky offered few allurements to a poor man and in 1814 the Lincoln's sold the little farm and moved to Indiana. Subsequently Abraham Lincoln moved into Illinois and the rest is history.

SENATE PASSES BILL TO LET KNOX SERVE

Constitutional Objection To His Taking Premiership In Taft Cabinet Believed To Be Removed.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—In the belief of the Senate all constitutional objection to the appointment of Senator Knox as Secretary of State in the cabinet of President Taft, will be removed by the approval by the House of a bill reported from the committee on judiciary by Senator Clarke, its chairman, as a substitute for the Hale bill and passed by the Senate tonight. The measure was reported early in the day and placed upon the calendar, where it remained until the Senate was ready to adjourn.

In order that it might be before the House as soon as it meets Monday, it was then passed without debate, many Senators having left the chamber during the short executive session held, believing there would be no more legislative business transacted. It appears to be the general impression in the House that when the bill reaches that body it will be referred to the committee on judiciary.

The bill as pased, repeals the increase in salary of the Secretary of State from $8,000 to $12,000. The Senate then adjourned until Monday.

MEMBERS OF CUBAN RURAL GUARD MUTINY

Demand Audience With President Gomez and Attempt To Enter the Executive Apartments.

HAVANA, Cuba, Feb. 11.—A mutiny broke out this afternoon among a company of rural guard just as the men were about to embark in launches to be transported across the harbor to the Cabanas fortress. When the men learned that they were to be transferred from the rural guard to the permanent army, in accordance with a decree issued by Governor Magoon, authorizing the transfer of one battalion, they refused to embark and, led by a subaltern officer, rushed to the palace.

They entered the courtyard and demanded an immediate audience with President Gomez. Some attempted to ascend the stairway to the presidential apartments, but the way was barred by a police guard, armed with revolvers.

The mutineers being unarmed, thereupon retreated, but remained in the city, shouting that they refused to submit to the transfer and demanded to be returned to their homes in Matanzas and Santa Clara, whence they had come to participate in the inaugural ceremonies. For a time there was great excitement around the palace.

ROOSEVELT'S MESSAGE ABOUT SECRET SERVICE DECLARED UNJUSTIFIED

Senator Hemenway Reports That 1907 Force Would Make An Army of Three Thousand

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—In a report made to the Senate today from the committee on appropriations the President's statement concerning the attitude of Congress toward appropriations for the secret service, Senator Hemenway, said that the President was not justified in making the statement contained in his message to Congress.

"If the men employed by the government on inspection work" said Mr. Hemenway, "were to march through the streets of Washington it would appear like an army compared with the number of men so employed in 1906."

Replying to Mr. Foraker, Mr. Hemenway said there were employed on inspection work 3,000 men, not including men employed on the enforcement of the pure food law and the meat inspection law and the men, he said had all the powers of secret service men.

Mr. Overman declared he understood from the report that over $10,000,000 had been spent on the secret service and he wanted to show how these detectives had occupied their time.

Lexington Citizens Will Honor Memory of Lincoln

Appropriate Exercises Are To Be Held In Schools and Colleges—Banks Will Be Closed—Veterans To Keep the Day.

Today is the centenary anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln and on this day all Kentucky is celebrating with appropriate exercises in schools, churches, colleges and mass meetings, business houses are closing for half of the day though the day has not been declared a legal holiday and the banks also are showing their respect to the memory of one of Kentucky's sons who rose from the lowly occupation of a rail-splitter to the highest seat in the Government, where he wielded his power for friend and foe alike to make him one of the best beloved of America's long line of famous Presidents.

The opening of the Lincoln Farm, the result of the work of patriotic men the country over, will be held at noon today in Larue county, where Lincoln was born and reared. President Roosevelt and his party left Washington yesterday morning to go to Hodgenville to attend the dedication and also to participate in those exercises.

Schools To Have Exercises.

In Lexington the day will be memorialized in the public schools by exercises appropriately arranged by the teachers and with the school children as participants. It was purposed to send floral tributes from the Lexington schools to Hodgenville today, but Superintendent M. A. Cassidy said that the time was so short in which to prepare them that it could not be done.

Superintendent J. G. Crabbe issued from Frankfort recently a request to the schools of the State that these floral tributes be sent to the Lincoln Farm there to be placed on the original cabin in which the martyred President was born. It is thought that this suggestion will be taken up at a later date when a special day will be designated.

Banks To Close.

Out of respect to President Lincoln the banks of Lexington will close their doors at 12:30 today despite the fact that it is not a legal holiday.

At a meeting of the Clearing House held yesterday morning, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, That as a voluntary and fitting tribute and mark of respect to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, president of the United States, and a citizen by birth of the State of Kentucky, we will close our respective banking houses on February 12, 1909, at 12.30 p. m., the centennial anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birthday."

J. E. BASSETT, President.
JOHN M. BELL, Secretary.

Spanish War Veterans To Meet.

There will be a special meeting of Lexington Camp No. 4, United Spanish war veterans this evening in their lodge rooms in the Y. M. C. A. building at the usual hour to hold appropriate services in honor of Lincoln's anniversary. A full attendance is desired.

TAFT HEARTILY APPROVES LOCK TYPE OF CANAL

President-Elect Says the Work At Panama Will Be Completed By January 1, 1915

NEW ORLEANS GIVES HIM ROYAL WELCOME

Socialist Banners On the Streets Ordered Down By the Authorities

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 11.—William H. Taft landed here shortly before three o'clock this afternoon from Panama and was most enthusiastically received by the entire city whose guest he is to be until Saturday morning. Judge Taft made a brief speech this afternoon in which he heartily approved the present lock type of canal across the isthmus of Panama. He reviewed a parade of enthusiastic citizens miles in length and tonight attended one of the carnival season balls, that of the Elves of Oberon.

Judge Taft tomorrow will address the negro Y. M. C. A., spend several hours automobiling and at night be the guest of honor at an elaborate banquet, at which nearly 500 prominent citizens will pay $25 a plate to participate.

Goes to Cincinnati Saturday.

Saturday morning he will go to Cincinnati, and on Monday he will leave for Washington, returning again to Cincinnati Wednesday.

He received the first news of the constitutional question which has been raised against the appointment of Senator Knox to a cabinet position by wireless yesterday, when he was apprised, not only by the press messages, but by a dispatch giving the views of Senator Knox That he was somewhat disturbed over the situation last night he admitted, but early today received news of a disposition of Congress to amend the cabinet salary law by making the pay of the Secretary of State what it was before the recent increase and he was inclined to take this as a happy solution of the difficulty.

Hitchcock See Chief.

The expected arrival tomorrow of F. H. Hitchcock, who will be granted an immediate conference and the presence here of J. C. Shaffer, owner of the Chicago Evening Post, on whose judgement Judge Taft said he should place weight regarding the cabinet aspirants for the vicinity of Chicago, made it apparant that cabinet activities had begun

In this connection, there was a rumor today that J. M. Dickinson, of Nashville the General Council for the Illinoise Central Railroad is being considered for the war portfolio, but no confirmation in the way of a positive statement can be obtained. From what Taft said today, it is fair to infer that he has as yet decided on no one for the treasury portfolio, but that as to the other places his ideas are decidedly more definite.

Canal Finished January 1, 1915.

In his speech on the steps of the City Hall here today, Judge Taft made what he said was his summing up of his recent trip.

"I am here on my way from a great constructive work," he said, after paying his compliments to his audience. "The greatest entered upon by an nation during the present centuries and I am glad to say to you who perhaps are more interested in that work than any other part of the people of the United States, that the work is going on as you would have it go on.

"On January 1, 1915, at least, if not before, and I am very much interested in having it within the next four years, that canal will be completed And when that time comes you will see loading down this river your great commerce bound through those straits to the West coast of America to the West coast of South America to the Orient and to Australia."

Several socialist banners which were displayed in front of a lodging house in the line of the Taft parade were ordered down by the local authorities this afternoon just before the arrival of the President-elect.

The demand was made on the ground that the inscriptions "Why should one man hold another man's job" and "To abolish poverty vote the Socialist ticket" flaunted in the face of Judge Taft would not conform to the hospitable and non-partisan spirit in which it was decreed the whole city should receive him. The banners were taken down.

CLASSIFIED LIST OF ACCOUNTS IS PASSED

Contract With Home Construction Company For Oiling Streets Ratified

In compliance with a request made by Mayor John Skain at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the General Council held in the new City Hall last night the members of the Board of Aldermen and Councilmen will meet at the City Hall next Monday to attend the laying of the corner stone of the new High School in a body They will also take part in the parade which will precede these ceremonies

The first business transacted at the meeting last night was the passage of the classified list amounting to $31,343 11.

The list was ordered paid and an ordinance to that effect passed.

Oiling Contract Ordered.

The most important business after the passing of the classified list was the ordering of the Mayor to enter a contract with the Home Construction Company to oil the city's streets This contract calls for the spreading of 175,000 gallons of Ragland Crude Oil and is to be furnished at the rate of four cents per gallon. It was passed on the recommendation of acting Mayor Veach, who had declared them the successful company in the contest for the contract.

Three gentlemen were absent when the roll was called at the beginning of the meeting of the Board of Aldermen. Those present were Messrs. Bayless, Mooney, Scott, Waddy and Walton Mr. E. D. Veach was present, but was acting as Mayor and as a result did not take part in the proceedings of the Board. Every member of the Board of Councilmen answered present at the roll call.

Authorize Raising Money.

An ordinance directing the Mayor to borrow $4,281.47 to place to the credit of the sewer fund was passed by both Boards, as was an ordinance ordering $4,800 left over from last year in excess of the amount appropriated to be reapportioned. An ordinance authorizing the Mayor to borrow $24,000 in anticipation of the June half of the 1909 taxes to be placed to the credit of the general fund was passed by both bodies.

A resolution ratifying the one passed by the Joint Improvement Committee declaring a sewer on Grosvenor avenue to be a necessity, was passed.

The Board of Aldermen passed an ordinance locating the arc lights as recommended by the Light and Water Committee. They also passed an ordinance ordering the construction of a

INDIANA HOUSE VOTES LOCAL OPTION REPEAL

County Measure Knocked Out But Democratic Platform Substitute Fails of Majority.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 11.—The Proctor-Tomlinson county local option repeal bill was passed by the Indiana House late this afternoon by a vote of 52 to 44. The Kleckner bill substituting township and ward local option for county option and understood to be the Democratic platform measure, failed to pass for the lack of a constitutional majority The vote on this bill was 48 for to 47 against.

The passage of the Proctor-Tomlinson bill followed the hottest debate of the session It was agreed upon as a compromise measure by the Democratic majority of the House. There were ten Democratic representatives who voted against the bill and four Republicans who voted for it. Champions of the Proctor-Tomlinson compromise bill express confidence that their bill will pass the Senate, which is controlled by Republicans.

A few of the Republicans Senators are said to favor the repeal of the county local option law, but they have refused to make public their attitude on the Proctor-Tomlinson bill. The Democratic House leaders expect to bring the Kleckner platform bill up for consideration again in the House, and then, if possible, pass both bills to the Senate.

The Proctor-Tomlinson bill, which passed the House today provides for incorporated town and city ward local option. It would enforce prohibition in the rural districts. It allows but one saloon to every hundred inhabitants and does away with saloons owned by breweries. The bill increases the present license charges according to the class of the cities.

Why Syrup Pepsin is Free

For more years probably than the age of the person reading this, Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., has practiced medicine, and the one thing that forced itself on his mind was the urgent need of the human body for something that would scientifically regulate the digestive organs—the stomach, liver and bowels.

These years of study developed Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, now recognised as the national safeguard of health in thousands of good American homes. For twenty years it has been gaining friends, for it is today, as it always has been, the best laxative tonic for women, children and old folks, for these especially need a gentle, safe laxative tonic that is sure in results and does not gripe.

It is because the doctor has watched its good work for all these years and believes in the merit of his remedy that he offers to send a free trial bottle at his own expense to anyone who writes him. You have simply to send your name and address. On the strength of what these free trial bottles have done—and thousands have been given away—Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is today more widely used than any other American remedy for constipation, liver trouble, flatulency, biliousness, indigestion, sour stomach, dyspepsia, heartburn and similar disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. It can be obtained of any druggist at 50 cents and $1 a bottle, and a bottle will do you a hundred times the amount of good it costs you.

People like Mrs. M. L. Graves, 832 Oakwood ave., Toledo, O., G. B. Houselen, Bessimer, Ala., William Redd, Goodman, Miss., once sent for a free test bottle and now have their entire family using it as needed.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 507 Caldwell bldg., Monticello, Ill.

PRESIDENT CROSSFIELD AT MEETING IN LOUISVILLE.

The Man Who Eats Well

And Enjoys Food Lives Life as He Should and Gets the Most From It.

The man who eats is the man who works, and the man who works is the man who wins. Tireless workers depend upon a storehouse of vim and vigor. India is noted for its fasters and its dreamers, Europe and America for their eaters and their workers.

In America we have been doing nothing but work this past quarter of a century. That is why our old men say, "In my days no one had dyspepsia." Of course, all men in those days ate and worked, now they work and eat.

If eating interferes with business, men give up eating. This is good logic for the dollar-getter, but poor wisdom for the man who realy wants to live.

Abuses of anything God given results in punishment, and man is a pigmy when it comes to cheating his system.

If you take from the system that which is intended should remain, or put into it that which is intended should be kept out, you are cheating yourself, and sooner or later pay the penalty.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are concentrated vegetable and fruit essences which give the system every fluid, stimulant and ingredient necessary to gain the fullest strength from everything which goes into the stomach, or to keep from the system everything which should not lay and decay in it.

If you will eat fast and improperly, if you will drink and eat irregularly and to excess, then give to Nature as you do so enough of the essences she demands to neutralize the bad effects of your habits.

After a meal take a Stuart Dyspepsia Tablet, and the meal won't hurt you or your stomach.

At a midnight dinner take a Stuart tablet and you will sleep well and get up without a breath which is filled with the decay of the midnight meal.

Fortify your stomach like you do your business. Fortunes when lost can be regained, but the stomach outraged stays with you to the finish, and you know it is there.

If you want to know what these tablets will do, buy a package from any druggist, price 50 cents, or send us your name and address and we will send you a trial package free by mail. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Building, Marshall, Mich.

The

Specifications show four individual cylinders, 120-inch wheel base; 40-45 Horse Power "Rutenber" Motor; Double Ignition System with Bosch Magneto, Timken Roller Bearings throughout, and many other details of refined construction, that we would be glad to explain.

Price $2,500, Without Top

This is the highest price that should be paid for the best motor car built and the Speedwell is the best that can be built.

It would be folly to pay more—it would be unwise to pay less.

PROMINENT RICHMOND LAWYER BADLY HURT

Hon. W. B. Smith Painfully Burned at His Home In Madison

RICHMOND, KY., Feb. 11.—What came near being a fatal accident and one which proved to be almost a remarkable escape, was experienced here early this morning by Hon. W. B. Smith, aged about 65, and one of the best and most widely known citizens throughout this State.

It has for the last many years been a custom of Mr. Smith when first arising in the morning, to exercise with physical culture movements. During the exercise of the morning, in some unknown manner, his night robe became ignited, and before he realized it, the blaze was streaming up his side and back. His own coolness, and self control are solely responsible for the saving of his life, for instead of running for assistance, he began to fight the blaze, at same time dis-robing. In the terrible experience which ensued his hands were severely burned about the body.

Crimson Men Lose Chances for State Championship By Two Points

In the Transylvania gymnasium this afternoon at 4 o'clock the Georgetown College basket ball team will try hard to break even with the Transylvania five in their series of games. The first game went to the Lexington team by a loose score. That was several weeks ago, however, and Georgetown is expected to play a much better game today. The Transylvania boys are confident of victory, but they want to roll up a larger score than was made by the State University team in its game with Georgetown.

In Lexington Central University lost to the State team by one point, and won from Transylvania by two points. Those two points put Transylvania out of the running for the State championship.

At Harrisburg four or five hundred people congregated and they received chief executive with vociferous cheering. He shook hands with many of them during the five minutes stay.

Wishes All Good Luck.

At Altoona the number was much larger. Bareheaded, and in the face of a stiff cold wind, President Roosevelt mounted a baggage truck but so loud and so numerous were the calls for a speech that he could find opportunity only to express his gratification over their cordiality and to wish them "all possible good luck."

At Tyrone, by special request the President stood on the rear platform as the train whizzed by and in response to a wave of his hand the crowd cheered lustily. During his fifteen minutes stop in this city President Roosevelt gave a brief talk to several hundred persons gathered about the rear of his car.

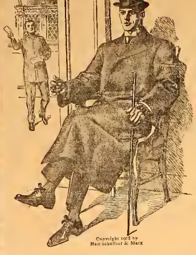

The President is due at Louisville tomorrow at 9:20 a. m. and at Hodgenville, the nearest railroad station to the Lincoln farm, about noon.

HOOGENVILLE SCENE OF LINCOLN CELEBRATION

he never forgot his first home. He rarely referred to it, but after he had become President of the United States he is known to have said. "When the War is over I would like very much to visit my old Kentucky home. I remember it well."

From time to time newspapers have announced that the Lincoln birthplace farm was to be sold but as a matter of fact it has only changed hands twice since Thomas Lincoln's original transfer. A few years ago it was given into the management of Rev. J. W. Bingham, who removed the log cabin to the exhibition at Nashville, and later sold it to some exhibitors who took it about the country as a traveling show. But a year or two ago the logs were found in a cellar at College Point, Long Island, where they were stored and with ceremony they were restored to their original site

Farm Subject of Litigation.

The farm itself has been the subject of litigation for several years and efforts have been made by various interests to use it for one purpose or another Many schemes have been suggested fro mtime to time but none of them have borne any large national significance. Finally in 1905 it was advertised that "on August 28, the Lincoln Farm was to be sold between the hours of ten and two from the court house steps at public outcry and to the highest bidder."

Mr. Robert J. Collier, of New York City, had been negotiating for the property and upon the appearance of this notice he dispatched Mr. Richard Lloyd Jones to Hodgenville with instructions to buy the place if possible

Trouble in Reaching Town.

The day set for the bidding was Monday and as there was no Sunday rollway operation in this neighborhood, Elizabethtown, twelve miles away, was as near as Mr. Jones could come by rail before Monday noon. At the little hotel in Elizabethtown Mr. Jones met two individuals who he learned were sent on the same mission as himself.

One represented a prominent eastern merchant, the other a distilling concern which recognized the commercial value of the pure water from the rock spring and the bottle label bearing the inscription "Lincoln Birthplace Whiskey". Both had come with the instructions to "Bid it in" and the sentiment which they displayed about their mission was intense.

Stimulated Patriotism Fails.

It eventually worked their ruin for before evening their patriotic enthusiasm had been stimulated to a high degree, and by midnight both were peacably abed.

Mr. Jones came here by buggy early the next morning and sought out the commissioner who was to conduct the sale. With the thought of the two gentlemen who were still resting in Elizabethtown he tried to pursuade the commissioner to start the sale promptly at ten o'clock. But that official was for having it in the afternoon. Finally twelve-thirty was agreed upon as a compromise.

A horse auction the same day excited more interest among the citizens of the village and it was but a small crowd that gathered about the court house, when Commissioner Handley announced that he was ready to sell the Rock Spring Farm.

Farm Sold at $3,600.

The bidding started at $1,500 and was gradually worked up to $3,600 at which price it was sold to Mr. Collier's representative. After the papers had been properly drawn and recorded Mr. Jones started to drive back to Elizabethtown and encountered one of the heated bidders who was mercilessly hurrying his horse to reach the auction in time to bid. An indignant salutation greeted Mr. Jones' announcement that the Lincoln Farm was in his pocket.

"What am I to say when I get back", the other shouted in dismay. "I'll give you $10,000 for it right now". But Mr. Collier had a better use for the place and it was not handed over. Instead he interested a group of representative American citizens in forming a national association for the preservation of this ground.

This group of citizens organized the Lincoln Farm Association which was promptly incorporated under the laws of the State of New York. The title of the Lincoln birthplace was transferred to this association and the program for enlarging the membership of the society was at once began. In order to make the memorial to Lincoln represent the tributes of all the people no contribution of more than twenty-five dollars has been accepted and any-one contributing as small a sum as twenty-five cents is entitled to membership in the organization.

Since this time about twenty thousand subscriptions have been received averaging a little less than a dollar and forty cents to a member. With these funds the trustees bought the cabin in which Lincoln was born and set it up on its original site: they have commenced the memorial building which is to cover the cabin and they have made plans for developing the farm into a beautiful park.

LINCOLN DAY

The whole country will unite today in doing honor to the memory of the great American born February 12th, 1809. Lincoln stands far enough in the past for us to take a view of his life and character not distorted by passion and prejudice. He was the center of the most momentous strife in the history of the nation but time has healed the wounds of conflict and almost entirely removed every trace of bitterness incident to his rise to power.

A native of the South who developed in the North, a typical representative of the plain people who have conquered the wilderness and populated the prairies of the West, Lincoln belongs to the whole country and is perhaps, all things considered, the most complete exponent of all that is best and strongest in the American character

The South, though it one time looked upon him as an arch enemy, will unite in the tribute to his memory. Intelligent Southerners have long recognized the fact that Lincoln was the instrument, rather than the center, of an irresistible movement and that the South more than any other section of the country, suffered through his untimely end.

Eulogy of Lincoln is superfluous. The whole world has raised him to an eminence occupied by but few. He ranks in American history as next to Washington. While his assassination was unfortunate for the country and particularly for the South, martyrdom made his place secure and probably saved him from what would have been the most trying task of his life.

Lincoln displayed superb skill in the management of men during the Civil War. It is by no means certain that he would have been equally successful in the storm of passion that followed. The North was for many years animated by a spirit of reprisal and revenge and swayed by animosities that might have overwhelmed even the powerful figure of Lincoln.

As his life gave him a place among the greatest of men, his death ranks as one of the gloomiest, saddest and most distressing tragedies of history, a tragedy which, if it deprived his country of his services at the time they were most needed, profoundly impressed upon the mass of his countrymen the benevolence and humanity of the man.

The manner in which the country today celebrates the centennial anniversary of Lincoln's birth is evidence that his life and its tragic ending left an impress not accurately portrayed in the strife and passions of the period of reconstruction scarcely less horrible than the war.

The country is finally learning to appreciate Lincoln's lofty character and as the storm of passion has subsided there is more sincere response to the lesson of Lincoln's life. If the country forgot his humanity for a time; if his policy was ignored and completely reversed within a short time after his passing, there is now a more general appreciation both in the North and in the South of what was actually lost in his death.

That the progress of the whole nation was set back for many years by the bitterness and extreme measures of those into whose hands the death of Lincoln threw the reins of power, must be the conclusion of every student of the history of that period, but after all, the feelings aroused by sharp antagonisms are short-lived and in the judgment of history sanity and reason are more potent than passion and prejudice.

TAKE CARE OF THE HORSES.

A subscriber to The Herald has asked us to call the attention of those who use wagons and horses, particularly the coal merchants and grain dealers, to the very great difference between the load which a team is able to haul on the brick streets or on a good macadam road and the load it is able to pull on some of the streets which have not been macadamized.

Her attention was directed to this fact by seeing a wagon, heavily loaded, stalled in one of the side streets on the outskirts of Lexington The driver vainly strove to make the team, a splendid pair of mules, pull the wagon loaded with sand, from the bog in which it was mired and finally, according to her statement to us, found it necessary to throw off half the load before the wagon could be pulled out.

We know there are few, if any, of the business men, merchants, coal or grain dealers, of Lexington who would intentionally overload a team both because they would be unwilling to inflict cruelty upon their animals and because they know it would be false economy to have them overworked. But we also know it requires a good deal of watchfulness on the part of the man in charge to prevent a wagon in a yard, where there is a pavement of brick or cement and the hauling, therefore, easy, from being loaded so heavily that it is impossible for the team to pull the load when necessary to go to some of the streets which have been, and will soon again be, soft mud, practically without bottom.

VIEWS ON THE NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

In cleaning up our desk yesterday we came across a letter which we received nearly a month ago, written the day on which the editorial from The Georgetown News suggesting Col. John R. Allen's name for the governorship was published in The Herald.

It is from one who has been a staunch supporter of the Burley Tobacco Association since its organization, who took an active and influential part in the movement headed by Mr. W. B. Hawkins, which preceded the organization of the Burley Tobacco Association, and whose feeling, therefore, is all in favor of those who have given support and encouragement to that movement which has resulted in the final victory of the Association.

The views expressed seem to us so reasonable and so wise that we take the liberty of publishing excerpts from the letter for the consideration of the people of the State, particularly those who have been most instrumental in bringing about the victory of the tobacco growers.

We would be glad to publish answers to this letter or comments on the views expressed in it that there may be a thorough discussion of the opinions expressed by the writer.

Not having been a member of the Association, not having given it that unstinted support which many of our best friends, to whom we are most devoted and for whom we have the greatest admiration, urged us to do and expected of us, we do not presume to speak save as a citizen of the State and a Democrat.

On the other hand, having given to that movement as great encouragement as our doubting judgment, which was at error, permitted us to do, and having no desire except to have that Democrat nominated who is best qualified to serve the State and most certain of election and that man elected Governor who will best serve the interests of all the people, we think it is proper for us to express our approval of the views advanced by our correspondent, who would make a most excellent Governor if nominated and elected, and whose election would be certain if nominated.

Eliminating from the letter certain personal matters and publishing only those paragraphs bearing on the question of the nomination for Governor, our correspondent writes:

Paris, Ky., Jan. 13, 1909.
Mr. Desha Breckinridge,
Lexington, Ky.

Dear Mr. Breckinridge:—

I was interested in the article on the first page of this morning's Herald discussing Col. John R. Allen as a possible candidate for Governor. I believe nothing would so conduce to the welfare and good name of Kentucky at the present time as a first class man in the Governor's chair. I should like him to be the very best man in Kentucky. So far as I know Col. Allen seems to me more nearly to meet the requirements than any one else whom I know.

* * *

The names of several men prominent in the tobacco movement have been mentioned for Governor. I believe the very fact that they were prominent in the tobacco movement is sufficient reason for their not offering themselves for the Governorship. Not that they did not do loyal and valuable service and that they deserve the gratitude of the tobacco growers of the State at large, but the very fact that they have been closely identified with a bitter fight is a good reason for their not entering the race. There is no good reason to put this movement to a political test as well as to an economic and ethical test.

With feelings of great gratitude to those who had advocated from the rostrum the cause of the tobacco organizations I nevertheless know many men beside myself in the organization who deeply regretted that so many of our advocates came out for political office. It was putting the strength of the organization to too severe a test and introducing into the fight, considerations that did not belong to it.

If it were necessary to make a choice between men antagonistic to the farmers' movement and these platform advocates, I believe we should select these advocates. But vastly better than either would be a man who could be depended upon to take a broad view and keep himself free from close contamination.

* *

I should not like to see The Herald unnecessarily antagonize any of the men who have been "mentioned" for Governor, but I should like to see it advocate some such man as Colonel Allen and give the reasons why the Burley tobacco leaders are not at this time the most fitting candidates. Many think Mr. LeBus would for many reasons be the best tobacco man that has been named. Unquestionably he would give a splendid business administration. But, as things now look, he can serve his people more effectively as President of the Burley Tobacco Society and later as President of the Union Tobacco Society.

With apologies for this trespass upon your time, I am,

Yours * * *

LAYING OF THE CORNER STONE OF MORTON SCHOOL.

The suggestion has been made, and we desire to endorse and submit it to the Board of Education and the Superintendent of Public Instruction in Lexington, that the corner-stone of the Morton High School be laid by a descendant of William Morton, to whose far-sighted liberality was due the erection of the Morton School.

George Keene Graves, Jr., the son of Mr. George K Graves, is the great-great-great-grandson of William Morton. It seems to us it would be most fitting that the descendant of him who nearly a century ago set an example of liberal encouragement of public education, of keen appreciation of the wisdom of educating children and evinced his devotion to the cause of education by substantial donations for the benefit of the children of the city, should take part in the ceremonies incident to the erection of the first High School building in Lexington

It is of value—intangible, but very real—to preserve the historical associations and the continuity of family tradition and association. We feel sure the Superintendent of Public Instruction of Lexington and the Board of Education will welcome the suggestion to have a descendant of "Lord Morton," as he was known, take part in the ceremonies incident to the laying of the cornerstone of the High School which will be called after his ancestor.

$995 SUBSCRIBED FOR INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Lexington Citizens Pledge Less Than $1,000 For Negro Institution

WORK UNCOMPLETED

Local Agent Asserts Site Has Not Been Selected, Despite Rumor

"The campaign for subscriptions to the new colored industrial school in Kentucky has not ended," said Dr. A. E. Thomson last night. "It has rather just begun While it is true that the required amount of $50,000 has not yet been raised in this State as was hoped it should be by this time, yet the interest in the project has been greatly increased and the committee is assured that the balance of the money will be forthcoming within a short while"

Dr Thomson will leave this morning for Louisville where he, together with the Rev. James Bond, a member of the trustee committee of Berea College, will be in conference with President W. G. Frost, of Berea College, to the selection of the site for the new college

Several Tracts Considered.

Dr. Thomson said last night that several tracts of land were under consideration, and that it was desired to have at least six hundred acres in the school property and as much as eight hundred acres was better suited to the needs of the institution.

The campaign in Lexington for subscriptions was not the success that was anticipated. It was believed that this city would donate more than ten thousand dollars to the work, or at least one-fifth of the total amount necessary to secure the $350,000 from the donors of the East who had given so liberally. The total amount subscribed during the campaign by the citizens of Lexington was $995, or less than one-tenth of the amount hoped for from the city. This was the amount secured in cash and pledges up to last night

One Pledge $150.

The largest pledge was one for $150. Then there were five for $100, three for $50, five for $25, two for $20, two for $10 and two for $5. Dr. Thomson said, however, that the amount of interest created in the city by the campaign was worth as much as the money raised

"My experience," he said, "in Lexington has shown that there are many who would gladly help if they could have a personal interview with some-one prepared to explain the plan of the school"

Dr. Thomson said that on account of his church duties he would be compelled to go to his home in Berea where he is the pastor of the Union Church. He was of the opinion that it is impossible to tell at this time just when a representative of the new school will be sent again to Lexington in an effort to raise subscriptions for the institution. He said that someone would be sent here and that the campaign would be carried on as vigorously as possible, not only in this city but in various sections of the State until every dollar of the required $50,000 is raised.

Dr. Thomson received a long distance message from President Wm. G. Frost, in Louisville, yesterday stating that the location of the proposed new school had not been finally decided, reports to the contrary notwithstanding.

The telegrams sent out from Washington stated that President Roosevelt would leave Washington yesterday at 11 o'clock by special train and arrive at Hodgenville for the Lincoln Centenary today at noon.

These telegrams also stated that the President would leave Hodgenville immediately after the ceremonies, presumably 2:15, and on the way back would stop fourteen miles east of Louisville to plant the tree on the proposed site of the Berea College Industrial School.

May Not Plant Tree.

Mr. Thompson's long distance telephone message conveyed the information that there had been some hitch in the proceedings concerning the proposed site and that the President may not be called upon to plant a tree during this visit.

Mr. Thomson's understanding of the message was there had been some hitch in the detail of the negotiations for the site. While it has always been conceded that the institution would be somewhere in Central Kentucky its exact location has never been given out.

Committee Will Not Talk.

On this point the subscriptions committee preferred to remain silent for the obvious reason that it wanted to feel free to locate the institution most advantageously with all conditions as to railroad facilities and the like taken into consideration.

Many tracts of land have been offered both for money and free under certain conditions. The committee has not felt like accepting any of these, preferring to make the matter of location an entirely separate proposition from the effort to raise $50,000 in Kentucky to help pay for a $400,000 institution for the industrial education of the negro.

All who have pledged money so far have done so with the strict understanding that it was without regard to a specific location.

BEREA PLEDGES $800.

Word was received yesterday from Berea College that the students of that institution had authorized a pledge of $800 with the promise of more if it should be found possible to increase the figure. The news was received with gratification by the solicitors here.

REPUBLICANS MEET IN EXECUTIVE SESSION

Are Said To Have Considered Financial Matters Principally.

The Republican County Executive Committee of Fayette County met yesterday afternoon in Republican Headquarters in the Trust building at 2:30 o'clock, with Mr. Charles Kerr presiding and Mr. James A Todd acting as secretary.

Contrary to the expectations of members of the committee, the meeting yesterday was not open but an executive session and the doors were closed to the newspaper men. It is understood, however, from reliable sources that the business matters which came up for consideration were of a financial nature, and had to do with the clearing up of some debts the committee contracted in the campaign of last fall. It was also said that ways and means for raising money to pay off other debts connected with the election contests now in the courts were discussed.

There were seventeen of the thirty-six committeemen present and the meeting was adjourned shortly after four o'clock. What decision was reached in regard to the payment of claims against the committee could not be ascertained.

sewer on East Maxwell street. An ordinance locating the new fire hydrant as recently recommended by the Joint Light and Water Committee was next passed.

Holds Up One Measure.

The only hitch of the night took place when a motion was made in the Board of Aldermen to pass an ordinance accepting the deed of R. L. Sweeney to the Sweeney farm on the old Frankfort pike. Alderman Mooney, who has regularly opposed this purchase, held up the acceptance of the deed for two weeks at least, by refusing to vote "aye" on the suspension of the rules and the ordinance was laid over until the next meeting when it can be passed if five votes are recorded in its favor.

An ordinance recommended by the Joint Improvement Committee recommending that the City Solicitor be ordered to take proper steps to have the fence inclosing Roszell Brothers' Coal yard and a switch on the same place removed to the proper place, was adopted by the upper board.

The bond of the Phoenix National Bank as the official city depository was then ordered accepted and they then adjourned.

Committee Recommends.

Before the Council met the Joint Ways and Means Committee held a session in the Mayor's office and recommended that the deed to the Sweeney farm on the Frankfort pike be accepted. They also recommended that the bond of the Phoenix National Bank as the city depository be accepted They then adjourned.

This meeting was followed by one of the Joint Improvement Committee. They recommended an ordinance directing the city solicitor to take proper steps to have the fence of Roszell Brothers on Bolivar street, and also a railway switch belonging to the same firm removed

They also recommended an ordinance ordering a concrete walk constructed on both sides of Bolivar street from Broadway to Upper streets. A joint resolution was adopted declaring a sewer on Grosvenor avenue necessary was also adopted.

Officers Suspect Men Who Ask To Ride In Cab From Station

On the arrival of Matthew Willard, better known as "Toronto Jimmy", in this city from Williamstown last night deputy sheriffs Thomas Dunlap and G. W. Hill, who brought him to this city on his nightly trip for safe keeping, were accosted by four men at the depot who asked that they be allowed to ride to the city in the cab provided for the officers for the trip.

Fearing that they might be friends of Willard the officers refused the request. They stated to a reporter for The Herald at the jail last night that considering the nature of the charge against Willard and that as these men were witnesses for Willard they thought it would be best to refuse the request

Willard is now on trial at Williamstown on the charge of breaking into and robbing a bank at Cornith of $8,000. He is brought back to this city every night for safe keeping, it being the opinion of the authorities at Williamstown that the jail in that city is unsafe

NANCY HANKS IS TO RECEIVE TODAY

Unique and Happy Reunion Is To Be Held At Hamburg Place

INVITATIONS ISSUED

New York Horse Review Comments On Unusual Celebration

At Mr. John E Madden's Hamburg Place today a happy and unique celebration will be held in the reunion of the family of Nancy Hanks, 2.04, the famous trotting mare who became the world's champion trotter and who was named after the mother of Abraham Lincoln.

The famous mare will be on exhibition and all of her family that are alive. Invitations of an elaborate character have been issued and sent broadcast over the country and the interest created by the unusual occasion among the horsemen is second only to the great celebration of the hundredth anniversary of Lincoln's birth by the dedication of the farm memorial near Hodgenville today when President Roosevelt, Governor Folk and others of the nation's celebrities will be present and make addresses of a memorial nature.

Beautiful Invitations Issued.

The invitation reads:

Souvenir of the re-union of the family of Nancy Hanks 2:04 (whose mother was Nancy Lee) held at Hamburg Place, Lexington, Ky., February the twelfth, nineteen hundred and nine. The occasion being the one hundredth anniversary of Abrahsm Lincoln's birth".

The Horse Review of New York has this to say of the Nancy Hanks memorial to be held today.

Horse Review Comments.

This week throughout the entire length and breadth of the Union—whose preservation is more largely due to him than to any other man—is being observed the centenary, which occurs on Friday, of Abraham Lincoln, who was born February 12, 1809. Preparations are in progress, in every American city, town and village in which "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable," are comprehended and reverenced in their true meaning, for tributes to be paid the memory and achievements of the martyred Emancipator. One of these observances, and a particularly unique and appropriate one, is to take place at Hamburg Place, near Lexington, Ky., the special cause therefore being the fact that it is the present home of Nancy Hanks 2:04—the ex-queen of the trotting turf and a great mother of Abraham Lincoln. A peculiar pathos of recollection attaches to Nancy Hank Lincoln. She died when her immortal son was but nine years of age and her short life was passed in such complete obscurity that not even her portrait has descended to us Each adds to other's fame.

It is a strikingly interesting fact that, when Nancy Hanks, the trotting race mare, rose successively from one altitude of fame to another, the culmination coming when she achieved the world's championship, the derivation of her name was to a large part of the public unknown; and that its explanation contributed, to a remarkable extent, to the rescue of the popular fame of her namesake. Each reacted upon the other. The exploits of the daughter of Happy Medium made the name of Abraham Lincoln's mother even more a "household word;" and in return the fact that the race mare was named for the woman whose memory every true American has such reason to revere won for her a degree of popularity that few turf champions have ever enjoyed—as the endearing appellation of "Our Nancy," which was early bestowed upon her and followed her throughout her career, in itself eloquently testifies.

During the five years that she was before the public Nancy Hanks 2:04 never knew defeat. As a brood mare she has produced the two fastest trotters—Admiral Dewey 2:04 3-4 and Lord Roberts 2:07 1-4—ever produced by any matron, while a third foal—Nancy McKerron 2:18 3-4, at two years—is considered very likely to this year make her the first dam of three 2:10 trotters.

ROBERT BURNS WILSON WINS CENTENARY MEDAL

Is Accorded An Official Recognition On His Two Poems On Poe

The many friends and admirers of Robert Burns Wilson will be glad to learn the news given in the following telegram taken from a New York paper:

ROBERT BURNS WILSON'S POE POEMS WIN MEDAL.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va.,—Announcement was made today by Dr. Charles W. Kent, head of the Department of Literature at the University of Virginia, that Robert Burns Wilson, now in New York, had been awarded the Poe Centenary medal. This was in recognition of the two poems on Poe written by Mr. Wilson for the recent commemorative centenary exercises and for a previous celebration.

The Herald has the pleasure this morning of publishing a poem by Mr. Wilson on Lincoln which has not heretofore been published which is in his best style and worth preservation by all those who value his work as must all who are appreciative of poetic genius

LINCOLN.

"Not in the courts of Kings alone
Are found life's princes of the blood,
They rise and reign where field and flood
Know not the temple nor the throne,"
Thus runs the reed of truth while Nature's art
Designs with infinite and loving care
Her matchless master-work, she will not spare,
By every lure's fantastic swerve and start,
By storm and counter-storm, to prove each part,
'Till all, with even balance, equal share,
Oppose, with close-knit fiber, every snare,
So dear perfection is to her deep heart.
So did she mold this titan-tempered being
Out-shouldering time's oblivious trend, he takes
His own majestic attitude, decreeing
His own memorial magnificent:—
His life's appeal to human hope, which makes
His uninscribed imperishable monument.

II.

His life's appeal! There all of life finds place;
For never yet was wrapped in human breast
A heart more driven by care, nor more distressed
By sovereign ills and never did sorrow trace
More bitter anguish on so sad a face.
No wilderness yields to the Eagle's quest
Aught lonelier than his soul, which found its rest
In love that held all life in its embrace.
No tablature inscriptive is for him!
The carved and cold memorials which we fashion
Leave him unimaged. Past the curbing brim
His spirit's attributes, still unrestrained,
Rise like a cloud at sunset He attained
The summit of the soul—world-wide, divine compassion

III.

On thought's dark backward-flowing sea, far-whirled,
Fame's few are borne The blind enchanter, singing
The woes of Greece—The flame-haired phantom springing
From Hercules' drained cup—The slim, acant-curled,
But classic-imaged Roman, slain and hurled
Prone on the blood-stained marble—The onward winging,
Pale Corsican's lone star—Then sorrow flinging
Her shadowing veil across the empty world.
Holding at gaze time's wider world's array,
With loftier course—winged with diviner aim,—
With mighter orbit—lonelier than they,
And leaving upon this hither shore a flame
Unquenchable—lit by his soul's devotion,
Our mariner, last-launched, sails, now, that bannered ocean

IV.

Remembering him let us remember well,
Not just his days of triumph, but the whole
Of his life's deep unfathomable scroll,
In-writ with lines dark and inscrutable;—
Fate's poignant record of dread years that fell
On his steep path, years when the destined goal
Was blurred by clouds in which his desperate soul
Fought with the shadows on the brink of hell.
"The short and simple annals of the poor"—
That is the history of my life"—he said
While his devoted and Olympian head
Sustained the nimbus of a Nation's woe,
Bent, in the prescient calm of those who know
How deep the sorrows are which their souls must endure.

V.

Born of the brooding, silent wilderness,
His eagle spirit, lonely and reserved,
Held its fine poise unruffled, and preserved
His strong and troubled heart from bitterness,
And past the racking hours of his distress
Sustained his patient mind which never swerved
In its far-seeing spiral, so justly curved,
Each circling, higher—the vision, never less.
Inspiring, like some cloud-wrought vision, seems
This memoried life, from ostentation free
This child-like heart untouched by sordid schemes,
This gifted mind, too great for vanity.
Genial in sadness when Joy's fitful ember
Grew pale amidst its ashes—This let our souls remember.

W. P. KIMBALL ABLE TO RETIRE.

(Kentucky State Journal.)

Hon. W. P. Kimball is wise in eschewing office. He is a capable lawyer and besides has been signally honored by his constituents. He has held every office, including that of Representative from Lexington in the Legislature, county attorney of Fayette and congressman from the Seventh district. In every station he has proved his competency and worth, and won the plaudits of his people. He doubtless can not make as much money out of the practice of law as his salary in Congress, but he can make much more than by holding any local office, and he won't have to spend it as public men are forced to. William Preston, we congratulate you on your sensible decision! You can afford to retire on

KISS NOT.

(The whole land should ring with the cry: "Quit your kissing."—Rev Dr. Scudder, of Jersey City.)

Kiss not, kiss not, ye hapless ones of clay,
For kisses are no more than tainted flowers—
Things that are made to give us all away
Ere they have blossomed for a few short hours.

Kiss not, kiss not, the one you kiss may change,
The rosy lips may wither and turn blue,
The cheerful, ruddy face grow pale and strange,
And all the curse of it will fall on you.

Kiss not, kiss not; the one you kiss may die—
May perish from the gay and gladsome earth;
The silent stars, the blue and smiling sky
Beam on her/his grave as once upon his/her birth

Kiss not, kiss not; oh, warning vainly said
In present hours as in the years gone by!
Love flings a halo round the dear one's head,
Faultless, immortal—and we'll kiss or die, or both, for that matter, by heck!

Emmal-Baker Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Emmal to Mr. Smith Gentry Baker, was celebrated last evening at the home of the bride's grandfather, Mr. W. B. Emmal, on North Mill Street, the Rev. Mark Collis officiating. It was a beautiful lily wedding the decorations by Anderson and White being elaborate and of special beauty. The two spacious drawing rooms and hall of this lovely old home were a bower of green and white lilies. The windows were draped with Southern smilax which also hung with a massive effect in the folding doors and in a graceful mass from the chandliers. The mantels in both rooms were screened with the green and in the front drawing room the scene of the ceremony there was a beautiful altar of plants, lighted with Cathedral candles in crystal candlebra which stood on high, white pedestals. Stately palms towered to the ceiling in the corners by the mantel, which was branched with white ferns, and the great mirror at the rear fringed with smilax formed a beautiful setting for the wedding party.

Kidd's Orchestra played a beautiful program as the guests gathered and as Lohengrin's Bridal chorus sounded as the Misses Lela Baker and Ella Stewart, two ribbon bearers, entered the front drawing room from the hall. They wore beautiful soft white satin gowns and carried huge wreaths of smilax tied with white satin ribbon which unwound as they neared the altar to form the isle for the bridal couple. The maid of honor, the bride's cousin, Miss Mary Prewitt Stucky, of Louisville, followed slowly. She wore an exquisite gown of pink satin chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink roses tied with a tulle sash. Then came the charming bride with her mother, Mrs. Burt Emmal, who gave her in marriage. As they entered from the hall the bridegroom with his father, Mr. Robert L. Baker, the best man, came from the back drawing room. They met before the altar for the beautiful marriage service. During the betrothal vows there was soft music from the orchestra and for the formal blessing the couple knelt on white satin pillows.

The bride, who is a handsome brunuette, was lovely in her exqisite wedding gown of liberty satin. It was made empire with elaborate trimmings of pearls, lace and a shower of roses made of baby ribbon which fell from the waist over the sides of the skirt. In her hair were sprays of lilies and she carried a shower of lilies of the valley and white roses.

After the ceremony congratulations were showered upon them as Mendelsshon's wedding march sounded joyfully.

The wedding supper followed and was in many elegant courses. The bride's table in the dining room was beautiful in its appointments and was adorned in green and white. Over the cloth were elegant lace mats and in the center was a beautiful green basket filled with Easter lilies. In silver candlebra were white candles and the silver baskets, bowls and comforts were filled with beautiful cakes and mints in green and white and decorated with candy lilies. The name cards were cupids tied with white satin ribbon with the name of the guest, the initials "E. B." and 1900 in gold letters across it. These were the exquisite work of Mrs. Emma Varden and completed the decoration of this lovely bridal table. Seated with the bridal couple were Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Baker, Miss Lelia Baker, Miss Ella Stewart, Miss Frances McFarland, Miss Grace Appleton, Mr. Lovell Foushee, Mr. Thomas Jefferson, Mr. Edward Taylor, Jr., Mr. John Guyn, Mr. Albert Bryan. Other guests were served in the drawing room. There were many bright toasts drunk to the health and happiness of the popular couple who left later in the evening for a trip South. They will meet Mr. and Mrs. Baker at Hot Springs, and after a visit there will return to Lexington to reside. They will board for awile with Mrs. Herr on East High Street and will go to house keeping in the spring.

The bride is the only daughter in the home, she is a charming girl, bright and attractive and an accomplished musician. She has always been quite a favorite and is much loved. Mr. Baker is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Baker. He is handsome and attractive and a popular young business man holding a position with the Phoenix National Bank.

The guests included kinsmen and most intimate friends, about one hundred and twenty being present. They were received by the bride's mother, Mrs. Emmal who was handsome in gray silk, her aunt Mrs. Sarah Allen, handsomely gowned in black silk, Mrs. Baker, who wore an elegant green evening gown, and Mrs. Charles Fisk, of Covington, gowned in gray silk with trimmings of rose point lace. Many wedding gifts of special beauty and elegance were received and were displayed in a room on the second floor.

A pleasant little gathering of last evening was the Valentine candy pulling the Memorail Circle of the King's Daughters gave at the Y. M. C. A. building for the benefit of the circle. The rooms presented a very festive scene with garlands of red hearts hanging about, and at the attractive little post office beautiful valentines of many varieties were sold. The candy was made by Schnnge and the hours were much enjoyed pulling it. There was quite a large crowd of young people present and the evening was a great success financially and socially.

Among the members of the circle who assisted in entertaining were Mrs. W. B. Bush, Mrs. A. K. Lyon, Mrs. Earl Lyon, Mrs. Wilbur R. Smith, Mrs. C. A. Johns, Misses Alma and Lena Holtes, Hattie Uppington, Emily and Bessie Daugherty.

Fine Prescription To Relieve Rheumatism and Kidney Troubles

The following prescription for the cure of rheumatism and kidney and bladder troubles has no doubt been filled millions of times, viz: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces These simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at any good prescription pharmacy at little cost and are mixed by shaking well in a bottle.

The dose for adults is a teaspoonful after each meal and at bedtime, drinking a full tumblerful of water after each dose. It is stated that this prescription is a positive remedy for kidney trouble and lame back, weak bladder and urinary difficulties, especially of the elderly people, and one of the best things to be used in rheumatic afflictions, relieving the aches and pains and reducing swellings.

A well-known authority states that this mixture acts directly upon the eliminative tissues of the kidneys; cleanses these spongelike organs and gives them power to sift and strain the poisonous waste matter and uric acid from the blood which is the cause of rheumatism.

If your back or sides ache and you suspect kidney trouble it would be wise to try this for a few days.

How to Test a Newspaper Advertisement

Is it Specific?

An advertisement which does not bring out individual features of the store and of the article advertised is almost as much help to competitors as to the institution paying for the space.

On the other hand, an advertisement which exploits distinctive features exclusively, is likely to create an impression of freakishness—a feeling that the advertiser is placing undue emphasis on merely talking points.

The best test of whether an advertisement is specific or not, is to substitute the name of a competitor. If the advertisement is just as effective over the name of another house, a little individuality should be instilled into it.

A specific advertisement meets a condition squarely as it is, instead of dealing with it as it ought to be.

It should give a definite reason to attract the prospective customer's immediate attention as well as to justify its appearance from the view point of the advertiser.

It should so concentrate attention on the article advertised that the reader is completely absorbed in and unconsciously obtains a clear comprehension of the story itself rather than impressed in any way by the manner in which it has been told.

If the cleverness of the "copy," the brilliancy of the language or the vividness of the illustration diverts the reader's attention from the article itself—the advertisement fails to fulfill its real purpose.

To produce an advertisement which is consistently specific often requires much time and thought.

The only way to accomplish this is to write it experimentally, and if it does not stand the test, keep on attempting and testing, until the desired result has been accomplished.

Test No. 2

DRUGGIST SAYS COOPER WOKE UP RECENTLY

Westerner Claims Everybody Will Have To Take His Medicine Eventually.

New York has never before witnessed such a spectacle as may be seen every day at Broadway and Ninth street. It is here that L. T. Cooper, the Western stomachologist, who claims that stomach trouble is at the bottom of all chronic ill health, is meeting the public.

It would be difficult to estimate just how many people call to talk with Cooper during a single day. The store where he is holding forth seems to have become the Mecca for ailing people in New York, and the amount of medicine he is disposing is enormous. In addition to what he sells himself, druggists generally throughout New York are handing his preparations out in unlimited quantities.

A leading druggist said recently: "The public seems to have lost its mind over this man Cooper. Personally I don't know anything about his medicine. We had nothing to do with his coming to New York and he has until recently sold his preparations entirely through one company. I suppose he thought New York was like one of his Western towns and everybody could be supplied from a corner drug store. He woke up about a week ago and put it on sale everywhere. Since then we have been selling it. I dont know how long this demand will last, but I have never before seen anything like it."

In an interview Monday afternoon Cooper said: "I am not making any wild claims for my medicine. All it does is to stimulate the gastric juices and regulate the digestive organs, but people do not realize how splendid their health would be if only their stomach were not languid and enfeebled by years of abuse.

"Nine out of ten people who have called today have been sent here by others. Sooner or later every tired half-sick man and woman in New York is going to try my medicine. They can't help it. After I leave New York I shall take two months' rest and then go to London to introduce Cooper's New Discovery in England."

Among New Yorkers who have recently become enthusiasts on the subject of Cooper's medicine is George J. Scott, of No. 274 West Nineteenth street, who said Monday afternoon: "It is hard to realize that any medicine will do all that is claimed for it.

"I have taken all kinds of medicine for ten years and this is the first I have ever found that was worth two cents. I have had rheumatism constantly for ten years and have spent a quarter of what I made for doctors and medicines. I might have taken as much rain water for all the good they did me. Before I had taken this Cooper's New Discovery a week, I realized it was worth something. I have taken it a month and I am as well as I ever was in my life. I have no rheumatism and eat like a horse. I feel like doing something now, where a month ago I hated to walk a block. When I first bought it I thought it was another fake, but now I know better. All the other stuff I have taken was worth nothing; this is worth ten, yes, twenty times what they ask for it."

Cooper's New Discovery is now on sale at leading druggists the country over. We will send a booklet in which Mr. Cooper tells the reason for most ill health, to anyone upon request. The Cooper Medicine Co., Dayton, Ohio.

EQUALIZATION BOARD IS FINALLY ADJOURNED

Recapitulation of Assessor's Books To Be Made In Short While

The Fayette County Board of Equalization completed its labors and adjourned finally late yesterday afternoon.

The board has been in session at stated intervals since the first Monday in January. The final action of the board on the valuation of property assessed is conclusive and from the records of assessor's book as turned over by the Equalization Board the sheriff's books for the collection of taxes for the year of 1909 will be made. The total valuation of property in Fayette county will not be known until the county clerk's makes out a recapitulation for certificates to the State auditor.

The clerk is given until March 15 in which to make out the recapitulation. The work is usually done by Deputy Clerk Fousbee and will be done in the next few days.

Few Complaints.

Comparatively few complaints have been made to the board as regards the raises in the assessment returns.

The members of the board are: Mike Bowerman, chairman; Faust Foushee, deputy county clerk, secretary; Messrs. J. G. Lyle, Leon D. Smith, C. E. Norman, J. E. Phelps, J. W. Clark, Rhodes Estill and Walter Boone.

CHANGE IS MADE IN HOURS OF SERGEANTS

One Man To Do 14 Hours Work and One 10; One On Street

By order of Mayor John Skain, Chief of Police J. J. Reagan, yesterday changed the system under which the sergeants at the police station have been working for the last seven months. Beginning yesterday only two men will act as desk men instead of three, which has been the rule since last summer.

It is the intention of the Mayor to add one more man to the walking force through this arrangement and thereby strengthen the city's protection. Sergeant John Shay will go back to patrol duty while in the future Sergeants John Ryan and James Price will be "on the desk."

The new arrangement means that instead of working in eight hour shifts one man will have to do 14 hours duty while the other does 10. The order went into effect yesterday.

Local Stage

"The Man Who Stood Still," the play in which Mr. Louis Mann is to be seen here tonight is one of three pieces by Mr. Jules Eckert Goodman, for a time editor of The Bohemian Magazine. The two others are "The Right to Live," which he wrote with Wilton Lackaye in view, and "The Test," in which Miss Blanche Walsh is acting with what is reported to be a great success.

Young Goodman's purpose in writing "The Man Who Stood Still" was to show that the problem of taking care of foreign-born can be solved only when these adopted citizens put their shoulder to the wheel and help in the country.

He has not, however, undertook to plant his lesson by preaching. He has used as his example and protagonist a lovable old watchmaker, John Krause, acted by Mr. Mann. Krause thinks the ways of a century ago are good enough for today, in business as well as in the domestic relations. That is why he is left standing still, while his rivals sweep on past him.

"The Servant in The House."

The story of "The Servant in the House" was told in brief from by the Chicago Record Herald the morning after the play was produced in that city.

"Beneath an English church that requires restoration lie tombs diffusing noxious vapors through the edifice and the attached vicarage. To cleanse these foul places came a brother of the vicar whom that cleric had long since disowned and whose child he has adopted, the drain man, a rough, ill-spoken creature, once a drunkard, now an embittered toiler, but proud of work, and with the fires of a kind of revolutionary idealism smoldering in him.

"Simultaneously with his arrival at the vicarage comes the Lord Bishop of Benares, third brother of this strangely assorted family. He is a zealot undefiled, and for purposes of his own elects to tarry incognito for a few hours in this household. There he beholds the spectacle of brother ashamed of brother, of child hidden from parent, of wife intriguing pitilessly in behalf of a dearly loved husband, of another bishop (the wife's brother) scheming to turn pious projects into a gigantic building fund for the benefit of the higher clergy.

Bishop as a Servant.

Beholding these things, the Bishop of Benares became for a little while the servant in the house, and before his level gaze and his searching words the fabric of deceit and expediency and self-seeking falls down. The symbolism is obvious enough, and in less powerful hands than Mr. Kennedy's it might prove extremely commonplace. But in his hands the figure of the Bishop became a flame of light and leading, pointing the way gently, beneficently and postively and at the last bringing weary hearts to peace.

Sale of seats opens this morning.

"The Time, The Place and The Girl."

The attraction at the Opera House next Thursday, Matinee and Night, will be the return of the big music play, "The Time, the Place and the Girl." Combining a sane, coherent story with tuneful, airy music, and all done in a pretty stage setting, this collaboration of Joseph E. Howard, Will M. Hough and Frank E. Adams, has found even more popularity than any of the series of offering by this trio, which included "The Girl Question," "A Stubborn Cinderella," "Honeymoon Trail," etc.

A Comedy With Music and Reason.

An asset no means small in the popularity of "The Time, the Place and the Girl," has been in the splendid cast given this show which has been termed "a comedy with music and reason." Heading the cast is John E. Young, who has been given a character part of a word-stumbler, but possessing unlimited nerve and equally as much honesty. Others prominent in the cast are Lillian Goldsmith, Mabel Melvine, Elizabeth Goodall and a dozen other well-known players. There are twelve songs, fifty vivacious chorus girls and the dancing numbers were produced by Ned Wayburn. The cast includes the "Blue Ribbon Beauty Broilers."

Hippodrome.

A comedy playlet "The Rounder," presented by J. C. Nugent and Mercedes Bock the headliners at the Hipp this week, is about the most interesting as well as amusing bit of comedy that has ever been presented at the Hipp.

Sidney Toledo in a contortion specialty, Mr. Bartram singing "Stingy" with beautiful illustrations, LaBord and Ryemon with some singing, dancing and impersonations, Rice and Walters in a Rube Comedy sketch and the Hipposcope complete the program.

Matinees 3:00 p. m. Night shows 7:30 and 8:45.

CONFIRMED PROOF

Residents of Lexington Cannot Doubt What Has Been Twice Proved.

In gratitude for complete relief from aches and pains of bad backs—from distressing kidney ills—thousands have publicly recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. Residents of Lexington, who so testified years ago, now say their cures were permanent. This testimony doubly proves the worth of Doan's Kidney Pills to Lexington kidney sufferers.

Stephan Bales, 139 Georgetown St., Lexington, Ky., says: "I was bothered with kidney trouble off and on for years. The first symptom was a dull ache across my loins, more severe at night after a hard day's work. I also noticed that my kidneys were not performing their functions properly, the secretions being much too frequent. I tried several kidney remedies but obtained only slight relief and was finally induced by wife to try Doan's Kidney Pills, which she procured for me at McAdams & Morford's drug store. By the time I had taken the contents of one box, the backache had left entirely and my kidneys were strengthened. On several occasions since I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they have always given me prompt relief. I am glad to recommend them as a remedy that will live up to the claims made for it."

PURPOSE OF REALTY EXCHANGE EXPLAINED

Aim of Promoters of New Organization is To Protect Both Agent and Owner.

Lexington real estate agents and property owners are deeply interested in the proposed real estate exchange and feel that when final arrangements are made and the exchange is put in operation much benefit will be derived. The object of the exchange is to secure system and uniformity, to protect better and promote the interest of its members, to correct existing abuse and prevent their future occurence, to establish rates of commission for the selling of property, both by public and private sales, and for the leasing and renting of property and collecting rents.

Not to Increase Rate.

It is not the intention of the members of the Lexington exchange to increase the commission charged but it is likely that the exclusive contract will be adopted in listing property. The placing of property in one agent's hands under the exclusive contract, insures systematic and continuous effort to dispose of it, and at the same time does not depress the price by being offered by different agents at various prices. It guarantees to the seller that only one commission will be charged and prevents the possibility of two agents claiming commission on same sale.

Protects The Agent.

This contract also protects the agent who is guaranteed his commission if sale is made during the term for which he has a contract. An agent holding an exclusive contract can feel reasonably assured that the money he has spent in advertising will come back to him.

The exchange will also introduce a method by which landlords will be protected against "dead beat" tenants. There will not be any more "moving out" between two days leaving an unpaid rent bill. Any one wishing to rent a house now will have to show a clean record.

CONFIDENCE

We Back Up Our Statements With Our Personal Reputation and Money.

We are so positive that we can cure constipation, no matter how chronic it may be, that we offer to furnish the medicine free of all cost if we fail.

It is worse than useless to attempt to cure constipation with cathartic drugs. Laxatives or cathartics do much harm. They cause a reaction, irritate and weaken the bowels and make constipation more chronic. Besides, their use becomes a habit that is dangerous and often fatal.

Constipation is caused by weakness of the nerves and muscles of the large intestine or descending colon. To expect a cure you must therefore tone up and strengthen those organs and restore them to healthier activity.

The discovery of the active principle of our remedy evolved the labor of the world's greatest research chemist. It possesses all the best qualities of the remedial active principle of the best known intestinal tonics, and it is particularly prompt in its results.

We want you to try Rexall Orderlies on our guarantee. They are exceedingly pleasant to take and are ideal for children. They act directly on the nerves and muscles of the bowels. They have a neutral action on other organs or glands. They do not purge or cause any inconvenience whatever. They will positively cure chronic or habitual constipation and the myriads of associate or dependent chronic ailments. Try Rexall Orderlies at our risk. Two sizes, 25c and 10c. MRS. MARY B. CLAY TAKES UP WORK HERE

Comes From Home In Richmond To Help in Equal Rights Movement in Lexington.

Mrs. Mary B. Clay, of Richmond, Ky., first vice-president of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association, has come to Lexington to take up the work of the Suffrage Petition and card enrollment, during the absence of Miss Laura Clay, president, in Prescott, Arizona.

The making of the State Constitution is before the people, and the suffragists are bending every effort to be successful in getting the women of the future State recognized in it as equal citizens with the men of the country. Being subject to taxes and punishment by the laws, they think they are entitled to say what laws and what taxes are to be paid, and what punishment is to be suffered for the breaking of the law. Being citizens of the State, they hold they ought to be entitled to the rights of all the other citizens.

Any information about suffrage work in the State can be found at Miss Laura Clay's home, 189 North Mill street, Lexington, Ky.

FOREIGN INFLUENCES AFFECT STOCK PRICES

Easing of the Situation In Londou Gives Fresh Start To Investment Demand

LATE DEALINGS SLOW

Lethargy Again Develops In Wall Street aud Day's Chauges Trivial

NEW YORK, Feb 11—The dull strength of today's market was ascribed in large part to foreign influences and was an echo of the rout undertone by the bear element in speculation on the London stock market. The situation abroad has been cleared up materially by political adjustments which have been going on and which removes the weight of apprehension that has borne on financial markets for months past.

Easing of the London market also gives a fresh start to investment demand, which had begun to show signs of being glutted by large new issues of capital recently placed on the market. Closing up of short accounts made a buoyant stock market in London yesterday, the rebound in British consuls reaching to more than a full point in that time, although some reaction occurred before today's market closed.

London was a buyer of stocks here on a considerable scale and this was an important factor in the early advance in prices. It was effective as a sentimental factor beyond this practical action and prompted some buying by local buyers, especially among shorts, who were disinclined to leave themselves uncovered over the three days' interval during which the stock exchange will be closed after today. Most of the business was done during the early part of the session, activity declining after London business hours passed. The market sank back into lethargy in the late dealings and the day's changes proved trivial in most cases.

Bonds were firm and United States 2s declined ¾; the 4s registered ⅜, coupon, ½ per cent for the week.

MAY WHEAT SELLS AT $1.13 IN CHICAGO

Highest Point Touched Since Famous Gates Deal In 1905 Reached and All of Advance Is Held.

CHICAGO, Feb. 11—Wheat for May delivery sold today at $1.13 per bushel, the highest point touched since the famous Gates deal in 1905. All of the advance was held and the market closed strong at the top at net gains for the day of ¾@⅞c to 1¼c. Corn closed easy and oats and provisions steady.

Plodded on by additional purchases by leading bulls numerous small shorts were active bidders for May wheat throughout the entire day in the price of that option advancing to the highest point recorded in more than three years. Offerings in the pit, however, were light, the greater part of the session owing to the congested condition of the market and consequently the total volume of business was not large. The market opened amid considerable bullish enthusiasm, with the May delivery ⅛c to ⅞c above the highest point of the previous session, which was also the high record mark for the season. Initial quotations on May being $1 12 to $1 12⅞. The opening bulge was due largely to an advance of ¾ to ⅞d in the price of wheat at Liverpool. The [illegible] deliveries also opened at moderate advances. With the exception of the September delivery prices during the day did not fall below the opening level, demand sufficiently brisk to absorb all offerings at firm prices. The bulls were aided in their campaign by the continuance of an unusually lively demand by millers for cash wheat in this country. A fresh outburst of bullish enthusiasm in the final half hour carried May up to $1 13, where it rested at the close. July sold between $1 00⅝ and $1.01¼ and closed at $1 01⅛ to 1.01¼.

The bulge in wheat had no effect on the corn market, which was inclined to be weak owing to moderate realizing by local longs. Receiving houses reported that offerings to arrive from the interior were considerably larger, but the actual arrivals were still small. Trade was of small proportions nearly all day. At the close prices were ⅛c to ⅛@⅜c higher than the previous close. Final quotations on May were 64⅝c and July 62⅞c.

Profit-taking by local longs had a weakening effect on the oats market, but prices held fairly steady throughout the day. At the close prices were a shade lower to ⅛@⅛c higher, with May at 53⅛@53⅛c and July at 47⅝@47⅞c.

Despite selling by local packers provisions held fairly firm all day on covering by shorts, who were actuated by decreased receipts of live hogs. The close was steady, with prices 2½c to 5c higher than yesterday's close.

TOBACCO MARKETS

LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 11—Today's tobacco offerings were heavier than yesterday and nearly all warehouses had [illegible]. The condition and quality of the Burley tobacco was good. Low and common grades were in better demand than [illegible] grades. Prices as a rule, however were unchanged. The dark tobacco was of fair quality and in fairly good order. Long manufacturing types of leaf were the best sellers. Prices continued irregular, with an easy tendency.

The Main-street Warehouse sold 25 hogsheads of new Burley at $14 to $19. The market was good and there were no rejections.

At the State Warehouse 70 hogsheads of new Burley brought from $11.25 to $19.75, and 22 hogsheads of old Burley brought from $14.50 to $20. The market was good and there were no rejections.

The Kentucky Warehouse had up 55 hogsheads of new Burley, which brought from $10 to $18 50; 25 hogsheads of new dark, which brought from $4 85 to $10.50, and 6 hogsheads of old Burley, which brought from $16 to $19.50. The market was unchanged and there were seven rejections.

The Pickett Warehouse sold 47 hogsheads of new Burley at $12 00 to $20, 20 hogsheads of old Burley at $17.50 to $16 50, and 10 hogsheads of new dark at $6 50 to $10. The market was easier and there were several rejections.

At the Ninth-street Warehouse 18 hogsheads of new Burley brought from $11 to $18 75, and 25 hogsheads of new dark brought from $4.70 to $7.60. The market was unchanged and there were only four rejections.

FAIRLAWN

FOR SALE

The home and farm of the late General W. T. Withers is offered for sale privately.

This magnificent property consists of approximately one hundred and thirty-two (132) acres of land, as fine as any in Central Kentucky, and in the highest state of cultivation. An elegant brick residence of 12 large, light airy rooms and two bath rooms, equipped with all modern conveniences, electric lights, water works and heated throughout with a system of hot water heating; a well arranged and conveniently located stable and servants' houses on the premises.

"Fairlawn" is at the northern boundary of the city of Lexington, and extends from North Limestone street on the East to North Broadway and the Russell Cave pike on the West; on the Limestone street side is the Paris and Lexington Interurban road; and on the Southern and Western sides are the tracks of the Lexington Railway Company. The property is sufficiently elevated to overlook the surrounding property, and affording an excellent drainage.

This one of the finest stock farm propositions in the Blue Grass country, and as a sub-division property, it would rarely be excelled anywhere; and this is the LAST large tract of land susceptible of a sub-division and at the same time situated so close to and surrounded by all the advantages of the city of Lexington.

Property along the Paris and Interurban road, even as far as the Country Club, is in active demand and is rapidly and substantially increasing in price.

We believe this to be one of the most desirable real estate offerings ever made to the investing public. For information, address or call on,

B. D. BERRY,

Attorney and Agent for Mrs. Martha S. Withers.

PRISONERS TAKEN TO PENITENTIARY

Eight Convicts Taken To Frankfort To Begin Service

INSTITUTION IS FULL

Contains Largest Number of Inmates In History of Commonwealth

Sheriff John McElroy accompanied by Deputies J. Waller Rodes, Jr., C. H. Wilkerson and J. T. McCarty and Michael Crawley left yesterday morning at 9 o'clock by way of interurban car for Frankfort to deliver to the warden of the penitentiary prisoners sentenced at the criminal term of the Fayette Circuit court. The prisoners were handcuffed.

The following are those taken down, the time of sentence and charges:

Ed Smith, uttering a forged instrument, two years.

Lem Powell, obtaining money by false pretenses; two years.

Charles Sanford, housebreaking; two years.

W. E. Hanson, appropriating to his own use the property of a common carrier, one year.

Perry Davis, colored, housebreaking, three years.

Sam Price, colored, robbery, four years.

J. F. Pierce, uttering a forged instrument; two years.

John Cleveland Massie, grand larceny, one year.

Record Number of Prisoners.

The contribution helped to swell the number of prisoners in the State penitentiary at Frankfort to the highest record in the history of the Commonwealth.

The total number is 2,035, which does not include over 400 boys and girls who have been sentenced to the School of Reform, near this city. In 1898 the Frankfort penitentiary contained 1,423 convicts and was so overcrowded that over a hundred were transferred to Eddyville. The number in the penitentiary now is 1,410, and when one or two large counties sent in their February consignment of new prisoners, the total was far in excess of the record made in 1898.

When the School of Reform was completed quite a number of young convicts were transferred to that institution, and this fact, together with the number that have been released on parole, has kept the number inside the walls down below the 1,400 notch for several years. Had it not been for the parole law and the School of Reform, there would probably be over 2,500 convicts now in the penitentiary instead of the 2,035.

All the available cell-room is now occupied in the Frankfort prison, and if many more new ones come some cells will be compelled to hold two convicts. If the increase in number continues as it has been doing, it is likely the next Legislature will have to make provision for another cellhouse building, either at Frankfort or at the Eddyville prison.

MRS. FANNY JOHNSON LOSES IN $5,060 SUIT

Verdict Is Given Defendant Railway Company In Damage Case

NEGRO IS TO GET $5

Traction Company Loses In Suit Brought By Peter Black

The suit of Mrs. Fanny Johnson against the Lexington Railway Company for $5,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received by falling from a North Limestone city car December 1, 1907, was resumed in the Fayette Circuit Court began speaking for the defense.

Judge Parker prepared his instructions and submitted them to the jury at 9.30 o'clock, when Attorney John R. Allen began speaking for the defense. Colonel Allen concluded his address at 9.30 o'clock.

Col. C. J. Bronston followed Colonel Allen and spoke for the plaintiff. Mr Bronston concluded his speech at 10:30 o'clock, when the case was given to the jury. The jury after being out about an hour and a half returned a verdict finding for the defendant. The verdict was signed by nine jurors.

Verdict on Peremptory Instructions.

In the $5,000 damage suit of G. A. Harney vs. Robert Alexander, etc., Judge Parker gave peremptory instructions for defendant on account of the absence of plaintiffs and attorney in the suit.

George R. Hunt was attorney for the defendant and Attorney R. S. Crawford was attorney for the plaintiff. The plaintiff sought to recover the damages for injuries alleged to have been received by falling through a defective floor in the porch of a house rented from defendant.

Plaintiff Gets $5.

The damage suit of Peter Black, colored, vs. the Blue Grass Traction Company was taken up at 11:45 o'clock and concluded in the afternoon, resulting in a verdict for the plaintiff. The plaintiff sought to recover $750 damages from the Traction Company, alleging that a conductor on an interurban car compelled the plaintiff and Will Colter to get off a car and walk from the old toll gate on the Georgetown pike to Lexington after having offered to pay his fare to his destination. The plaintiff alleged that he and Will Colter, another negro, boarded an interurban car at Greendale and because the conductor could not make change for a $10 bill the conductor stopped the car and put the two off.

The plaintiff was represented by Attorneys C. J. Bronston and J. Alexander Chiles. Col. John R. Allen and R. C. Stoll represent the defendant. The plaintiff took the witness chair and stated that he, Colter and another negro were returning from Webb's farm where they had been breaking hemp. Witness stated that after they had boarded the car the conductor asked for fare. Colter gave conductor 5 cents and said that only paid the fare to the toll gate. Colter, said witness would pay fare for both out of a ten-dollar bill. Witness gave conductor bill and asked him to take out 20 cents for both fares. Conductor could not make the change and stated that unless passengers could borrow or obtain fare they would have to get off the car. Conductor pulled bell cord, gave Colter's 5 cent piece back to him and witness and Colter got off car and walked to Lexington.

The jury returned a verdict finding for the plaintiff in the sum of $5

The $750 damage suit of Will Colter vs the Central Kentucky Traction Company was begun in the afternoon. The case will be resumed this morning.

Colter was a companion with Peter Black, returning from Mr. Webb's farm, and asks damages from the Traction Company on the same grounds as those set up by Black.

Suit On Account.

Through Attorney G. Allison Holland, Max Henry and Phillip Frank, doing business under the firm name of the Michigan Leather Company, filed suit in the Fayette Circuit Court yesterday afternoon against Charles Hottes, alleging that the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff in the sum of $53.04 for merchandise.

Motion For New Trial.

Attorney D. C. Hunter filed a motion and grounds for a new trial in the Fayette Circuit Court yesterday afternoon in the case of Bradley vs. Berry. The plaintiff was given a judgment Tuesday on the grounds that the defendant did not appear in court when the case was called.

V. G. MULLIKIN SUES.

Through Attorneys Kimball & Hunter, V. G. Mullikin filed suit in the Fayette Circuit Court yesterday afternoon against the Lexington Railway Company for $5,000 damages.

The plaintiff alleges that June —, 1908, through the carelessness, negligence and recklessness of the company's employes, a city car ran into a horse which plaintiff was riding, throwing him against the ground with great violence, severely injuring the right hip, right elbow and rig leg below the knee.

DESCENDANT MAY LAY CORNER STONE

George K. Graves, Jr., To Take Chief Part In Exercises Next Monday

The laying of the cornerstone next Monday of the Morton High School building at Short and Walnut streets may be done by the great, great, great grandson of William Morton, to whose memory the building is dedicated. This young man is the son of George K. Graves, of the firm of Graves, Cox & Cox, and his name is George K. Graves, Jr.

William Morton was an Englishman by birth and came to Kentucky in 1790 where he remained for the rest of his life. At his death in 1836 he bequeathed one-ninth of his estate for the education of poor boys and poor girls.

But in some manner the money was diverted from this channel into the regular fund of the city. At the time of his death there was no public schools in Lexington, but soon after the first public school was built.

The money left by him was used for this purpose and was called the Morton Public School in his honor.

A memorial tablet was placed in the building, but when the building was torn down the tablet was removed and placed in the educational rooms in the McClelland building.

It will, however, be placed in the new building when the building is finished.

While living in Lexington, Mr. Morton's home was the house on North Limestone which is now owned by ex-Mayor H. T. Duncan.

Mr. Morton was survived by one daughter, Miss Jane Morton. There are several members of the family living, but there are only two families in Lexington that are his descendents. These two are those of Paul Justice and Mr. George K. Graves, both being great, great grand children of Mr. Morton. Mr. Justice is childless. As the two boys of Mr Graves are school boys and are descendents of Mr. Morton it seems proper the older one, George K., Jr., should lay the corner stone of the new Morton School.

NEW DEPARTMENT TO BE OPENED NEXT FALL

Endowment Almost Secured for Chair of Pedagogy In Bible College

After two years of labor the Bible Institute in honor of its centennial anniversary will institute a chair of Pedagogy in the College of the Bible and when the school opens next September the new chair will have been installed. The cost of the endowment will be $25,000 and already most of this amount has been subscribed, $9,000 of which has been paid.

The Executive Committee of the College of the Bible is searching for a man who will be capable of filling the chair and although no selection has been made, Prof. H. L. Calhoun, of the College of the Bible, said that he thought that one would be made before the opening of the school next fall.

With the installation of this chair the College of the Bible will have the unique distinction of being the only Christian College in the country to have a chair of Pedagogy.

The work of the chair will be to teach the ministerial students in the Sunday school work and how to do it efficiently, but this will only be a feature of the work which is hoped to be accomplished. Chairs of the same nature have been established in colleges of other denominations with decided success and there is no reason why this one should not meet with the same success.

COMMONWEALTH MAY GET PART OF ESTATE

Probably Will Be Residue From Bequests of Father Barry

After the appraisement of Father James P. Barry's estate is made and filed and all the debts and other contingencies met it now appears that there will be a residue of several thousand dollars which may go to no one.

In case direct heirs are not found this residue may have to be turned over to the State.

This information came through one of the administrators of the estate yesterday and is therefore authoritative.

The appraisement of the estate is now being prepared and will be filed with the County Clerk within the next few days.

There will be enough to pay all bequests in the sums mentioned with quite an amout left.

Father Barry, while of Irish descent, was born in England, and his heirs, if any, probably reside there. Investigation so far has failed to discover that he has anyone living close enough to him in blood ties to claim any part of the residue mentioned.

The administrators, who are Messrs. L. A. Scott and Charles D. McCarthy, will in due time advertise for heirs and if none are found the residue will go to the State.

Judge D. G. Falconer is attorney for the administrators and appraisers.

7. Sextette—From Lucia di Lammermoor .... Donizetti
Specially arranged for this concert by Bellstedt.

The All-Star Concert at the Opera House last night, under the direction of Mr. Horace Wilson, was a delightful musical event, the first high-class concert of the season.

The house was not as large as it ought to have been, but it was most enthusiastic. There has been an unusual amount of theatrical and musical entertainment in Lexington recently, and previous experience has shown that Lexington has not a large element musically educated up to such a program even when rendered by such artists.

Miss Mehaffey is not a stranger to a Lexington audience and she was given a most cordial reception. In every number her fine soprano voice was used with pleasing effect. To a voice of abundant volume she adds the finish of careful training, and the expression that raises music to the plane of a fine art. After the duet with Mr. Schenke, the first number on the program, she was presented with a magnificent bouquet of roses.

Mme. Beiser-Scully Pleases.

Mme. Beiser-Scully pleased the audience with the selections from Liszt. The piano is not for the average concert house, a particularly inspiring instrument, appealing more to those with technical knowledge of music, and then only when played with rare skill. Mme. Beiser-Scully demonstrated, however, that it is not impossible for a pianiste to stir a Lexington audience to enthusiasm. Her selections were well within the command of her powers, and she played with ease and accuracy.

There is something hypnotic about the violin. It puts one wondering from what depths and by what magic its harmonies are summoned forth. The hypnotism and the mystery are all the more fascinating and the more potent when a charming young woman wields the delicate wand. Miss Strauss plays with a particularly fine stroke, if such a phrase is permissable, and with the feeling and expression that seem to breathe a living soul into the inanimate instrument. The audience was enthusiastic and she was generously responsive, playing to a second encore.

Mr. Schenke's Voice Effective.

Mr. Schenke has a fine tenor voice, cultivated and effective. His solo from Gounod's "Queen of Sheba" was exceptionally well done.

Mr. Bellstedt, as a cornetist is in every way up to the high standard of his associates.

Rarely has Lexington had the opportunity to hear in a single evening a company of musicians, all of whom may rightly be put down as stars.

Fritzi Scheff has left New York and is now on the road with "The Prima Donna."
